

ASGA Position on Requests for Referrals and/or Pricing Data

ASGA POSITION STATEMENT:

The Alberta Sand and Gravel Association (ASGA) is often contacted seeking a referral to member companies for aggregate products, consulting services, support for community projects, or other requests. While we would like to help, the ASGA has a policy of not recommending or referring individual ASGA members regardless of the product, service, or project request.

We are also unable to provide data related to gravel prices over time, current gravel pricing, or questions associated with the value of land with gravel deposits. Since it is a market driven resource, producers determine pricing through consideration of a number of elements; including production costs, location, products, volumes and current availability of resources.

Anyone seeking information on producers, industry consultants, or other ASGA member companies should contact those operating in the area you are inquiring about; the ASGA website listing of current ASGA Members or a referral from the local municipality can be a good starting point.

Unfortunately, the ASGA cannot recommend any particular member company or provide information, data or estimates on pricing of product, product delivery costs or land values.
